CHILDREN'S LITERATURE COMPETITION – HIGHER ED

COMPETITION TYPE: Individual (may have additional co-author or illustrator) — Closed to spectators

ELIGIBILITY LEVELS: Collegiate

EDUCATORS RISING STANDARDS:

- Standard II: Learning About Students
- Standard IV: Engaging in Responsive Planning
- Standard VII: Engaging in Reflective Practice

Contest Purpose

In his 2012 commencement address to University of the Arts students in Philadelphia, world famous author and storyteller Neil Gaiman said:

“Life is sometimes hard. Things go wrong, in life and in love and in business and in friendship and in health and in all the other ways that life can go wrong. And when things get tough, this is what you should do: Make good art.

I’m serious. Husband runs off with a politician. Make good art. Leg crushed and then eaten by mutated boa constrictor? Make good art. IRS on your trail? Make good art. Cat exploded? Make good art. Somebody on the Internet thinks what you do is stupid or evil or it’s all been done before? Make good art. Probably things will work out somehow, and eventually time will take the sting away, but that doesn’t matter. Do what only you do best. Make good art. Make it on the good days too.”

Educators Rising students: it’s time to make and share some good art. This is your opportunity to summon your storytelling powers and create original children’s literature. Great literature can be entertaining, educational, inspiring, or illuminating, and while it may be fictional, it speaks to inner truths. Children’s book authors — like educators — help young people to understand these inner truths and to make sense of the world. This competition offers Educators Rising Collegiate students the opportunity to try out that identity as an author and an educator.

General Information

The book may be written and illustrated by one individual (the author/illustrator) or two individuals (an author and an illustrator). The one or two Educators Rising Collegiate student members participating in this competition must write all words and create all images themselves for their submission. No artist assistance or use of images from the web or any other third-party is permissible. The participant’s original book will target an audience that could be as young as pre-K (age 4) up to as old as third grade (age 9).

Clarity of voice, pacing, and modulation of tone are strong. The listener is able to understand what the reader is conveying.	Clarity of voice, pacing, and modulation of tone are straightforward. The listener is able to understand, but the story's impact would be increased with a more dynamic vocal delivery.	Clarity of voice, pacing, and modulation of tone are inconsistent or needing improvement throughout the reading of the story. At times, the vocal delivery distracts from the content of the story and diminishes its potential impact.
Presence	The contestants' sustained eye contact, effective posture, and professional demeanor expertly complement the content of the literature to deliver maximum possible impact to the listener. All team members, whether speaking or not, reinforce the intended impact of the presentation at all times.	The contestants' mostly sustained eye contact, positive posture, and pleasant demeanor complement the content of the presentation quite well. One or both of the presenters may distractingly appear to slip in and out of professional character at moments during the session.	The contestants' inconsistent eye contact, posture, and demeanor reflect a straightforward recital of the material. The speaker(s) could do more to fully capitalize on the added impact possible with a focused, sustained presence.	The contestants display effort but eye contact, posture, and demeanor from multiple team members could benefit from more practice and coaching so that the speakers' presence consistently complements the content.
